

COURSES OFFERED IN ENGLISH

Code	Subject	Professor	Hours/ week	SEMESTER	ECTS	Course SYLLABUS
NE2212	Nursing Theory I (theory & clinical practice) * Students have an option of choosing either theory or practice	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas (Module Leader)	24	4	10	Students will study the theoretical underpinnings of Nursing theory and this will include discussion and analysis on a series of nursing theories. The practice component includes practice in medical wards, surgical wards, ICU, Accident & Emergency, Community and rehabilitation care
NE3112	Nursing Theory II (theory & clinical practice) *Students have an option of choosing either theory or practice	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas (Module Leader)	24	5	10	Students will study and synthesise knowledge based on Nursing theory and this will include analysis and comparison of nursing theories, and synthesis of personal micro-theories for practice. The practice component includes practice in medical wards, surgical wards, ICU, Accident & Emergency, Community and rehabilitation care
NE2222	Evidence Based Practice I (theory & clinical practice) * Students have an option of choosing either theory or practice	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas & Dr. Mary Gouva (Module Leaders)	24	4	10	Students will discuss the role of evidence for nursing and analyse the development of evidence emerging from the literature. The practice component includes practice in medical wards, surgical wards, ICU, Accident & Emergency, Community and rehabilitation care
NE3122	Evidence Based Practice II (theory & clinical practice) * Students have an option of choosing either theory or practice	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas & Dr. Mary Gouva (Module Leaders)	24	5	10	Students will critically analyse an article from a nursing journal with regard the validity of the presented evidence and use of reflection in developing valid evidence for practice. The practice component includes practice in medical wards, surgical wards, ICU, Accident & Emergency, Community and rehabilitation care

Code	Subject	Professor	Hours/ week	SEMESTER	ECTS	Course SYLLABUS
NE4112	Adult Nursing & Critical care (theory & clinical practice) * Students have an option of choosing either theory or practice	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas (Module Leader)	16	7	6	Students will participate in problem-based learning and small group discussion in order to develop their capacity to plan and analyse care in critical situation. The practice component includes practice in medical wards, surgical wards, ICU, Accident & Emergency, Community and rehabilitation care
NE4121	Research Methods	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas & Dr. Mary Gouva (Module Leaders)	16	7	6	Students will learn key issues relating to quantitative and qualitative research methods, and at the completion of the module the students will be able to critically analyse a research article published in a nursing journal
NE4132	Mental Health and Community Nursing (theory & clinical practice) * Students have an option of choosing either theory or practice	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas & Dr. Mary Gouva (Module Leaders)	24	7	10	Students will study the theoretical underpinnings of Mental Health Nursing and Health Promotion in the Community this will include discussion and analysis on a series of relevant theories. The practice component includes practice in Community and rehabilitation care, Mental health units and psychiatric ward
NE4242	Nursing Practice (this can be a stand-alone practice module)	Dr. Stefanos Mantzoukas (Module Leader)	35	8	20	The practice component includes practice in medical wards, surgical wards, ICU, Accident & Emergency, Community and rehabilitation care (a total of 32 hours per week practice)